A small cocktail and dinner party given by Medallie Arts afforded its guests the opportunity of meeting the internationally famous sculptor Marshall Fredericks and his lovely wife as well as Miss Eva Adams. William Louth, our host, spoke briefly after dinner, introducing a little history of the Medallie Arts Co. He spoke of the true beauty of coins and medals and their artistic value. May this creative power be ever fruitful, for each day we hold in our hands a labor of love. And thus this dinner was held in tribute to Art.

Chatting before the banquet were, l. to r., A.N.A. Historian Jack W. Ogilvie, Mrs. Donald R. Heath and Mr. Heath, the son of Dr. George F. Heath, A.N.A. founder. (Margaret McAuley photo)

As a remembrance, each guest was given a beautiful medal. Marshall Fredericks captured a deep and spiritual feeling in his design — the Spirit of Detroit. If you did not visit the Civic Center and view this moving and symbolic sculpture, it will be less easy to imagine its impact. Here we find the kneeling figure representing the Spirit of Man as an expression of God. The spherical composition in his left hand is symbolic of God and the three encircling hands represent the Holy Trinity. The right hand shows a family group, mother, father and child. The Civic Center faces our friendly neighbors in Canada. This beautiful work can be seen by those visiting and returning from these shores and exemplifies the spirit of the United States and Canada.

In designing the official medal of the combined convention, the sculptor captured the bond of friendship between these two countries by emphasizing the peaceful eagle with a sprig of laurel and the graceful lines of two maple leaves on the obverse of the medal and the Spirit of Detroit on the reverse. Marshall Fredericks has many artistic accomplishments to his credit and is presently engaged in completing the fountain for the new State Department Building in Washington, D. C.

And seen almost everywhere were those two popular and friendly promoters of numismatics — Margo Russell, Executive Editor of Coin World, and Margaret McAuley, photographer and publicity expert from Atlanta, Ga.

Christine Virginia Hoskins, the five-month-old daughter of the Charles R. Hoskins of Detroit.

Numismatists travel long and far to be with their fellows. This year's record was held by June and Robert Burroughs, Bangkok, Thailand.

I've been trying to find out what A.N.A. convention General Chairman insisted his bride to be become an A.N.A. member before the wedding ceremony. There must be some sort of award for such devotion!

Noticeably absent from the convention was John Morris' camera. John, why not? You always add so much glamor to the goings-on with your flashing lights! Please, don't give up that hobby. I'll wear my glasses next year, if you bring your camera.

How did it get to be Saturday already? So many things to review — exhibits were wonderful — must dash up and talk to Sister Mary Andrew, Curator of the Cardinal Spellman exhibit. One more round of the bourse.

Oh, Glenn, you looked so oo-la-la in that red cap, let me take your picture, you and Don — goodness Don, you almost set me on fire (and I've got a blister to prove it). Watch those cigarettes, boys! Do you know Mrs. Winifred Mather from Toronto? She has a collection of royal marriage commemoratives, also medals and Canadian decimal coins and also writes a coin column for the Toronto Telegram while serving as President of the Metropolitan Numismatic Club.

Gracious, I'm supposed to meet the gals at a squaw party in the hospitality room — I mean the Caprice Bar, see you later! There they are, bless their stomachs, must be at least 25, and more expected! Those capricious squaws in the Caprice! Girls will be girls but the darndest things happen to the nicest people, like Marion finding a bug in her Manhattan (after drinking it) and the waitress giving her another Manhattan! Well, you've never seen so many girls looking for bugs in a drink in your life — next convention they'll bring their own in little bottles — betcha! Whoops, it's time to board the bus for our luncheon!

Detroit is a city of beautiful buildings. As our bus headed toward Grosse Pointe we passed the new convention building and the Civic Center, through the beautiful residential section to the Grosse Pointe Memorial Center. This lovely and impressive building was the home of the Russell A. Alger family and was donated by them for a community center in 1949. It is noted for its beautiful gardens, Mrs. Alger's pride and hobby. Its imposing interior still houses many antiques and exquisite tapestries. The library ceiling is of carved wood squares. The building is now used by service groups and Grosse Pointe residents only, but is supported by small family donations. We were privileged to have luncheon there, as the number it can accommodate is strictly limited. Various garden clubs maintain and support their respective gardens and the formal garden.

Mrs. Pierre Palmentier welcomed us, speaking briefly about the Alger House and the Center. A delightful luncheon topped off with a delicious fruit plate and a most delectable lemon pie. After strolling through the gardens, we boarded a bus which took us around Belle Isle, Detroit's playground with picnic areas, harbors, zoo, and greenhouses.

Back to the hotel in time to dress for the banquet — that joyfully sad-that-it's-all-over-for-this-year-affair.

After the cocktail hour (I'm beginning to realize what our diplomats faced when they met Stalin and tried to keep on an even keel while the endless toasting went on!) we sat at table squarely in front of a magnum of champagne — and won.

Toastmaster Dodson kept his audience amused with jokes and quips — but no toasts! He said that Detroit was host to its first A.N.A. convention in 1894 with twenty-five in attendance. In 1962, the total registration was 2719, and stated that "it's costing more to make history today than it's worth" — but not this history. In introducing Sculptor Marshall Fredericks, the Admiral conveyed a deep thought when he said "We come nearest to the great when we are nearest to humility."

S. W. Freeman recounted the story of the Federal Charter renewal in perpetuity and the efforts of Senator John McClellan and Representative Wilbur Mills without whose help the measure would not have passed. Their contributions to the cause of numismatics is most worthy and appreciated by us all. Freeman played a major role in the action, too, but this he modestly did not mention. He presented the pen President John F. Kennedy used to sign the bill into law to President Shroyer for the A.N.A. archives.

Señor Miguel Muñoz, upon being introduced, invited all to Mexico City for the tenth anniversary dinner of the Mexican Numismatic Society September 6. Then he made a presentation of two huge sombreros to the A.N.A. and C.N.A. Presidents — it was a howler!

Dr. John Wilkinson, C.N.A. President, was called on to make the Canadian Best in Show presentation but the award could not be found. Not awed in the least, he asked if the winner, Dr. Ronald Miller, were present, but after a pause said "I guess not, so I can't give him the award I don't have."

Last but surely not least was our lovely guest, Miss Eva Adams, Director of the United States Mint. This petite gal covered every inch of the convention from bourse to exhibits and tours. The responsibility of minting over three billion coins in a year doesn't seem to thwart her energy. Not a collector herself, but a diligent correspondent of collectors all over the country, she has great pride in her work and answers volumes of mail from collectors. If you ask her, she'll tell you she just fell into this job. It was over twenty years ago that the late Senator Pat McCarran asked her to become his administrative assistant; with her potential, it was inevitable that she would move up.

The Director brought greetings from President Kennedy and her fellow workers, saying "We all love you," and continued "You know I've worried about where some of our coins go; now I know."

We saw a pair of Irish eyes fighting back tears of pride, joy and emotion when Miss Adams was presented with a one and only of its kind, a specially struck, gold convention medal. This gift from the A.N.A.-C.N.A. and Medallic Arts Co. left its recipient momentarily speechless. When she finally gave her sincere "Thank you," all knew it was from a full heart and we all rejoiced with and for her.

About this time we were getting somewhat sentimental but John Pittman jarred us to attention. Acting as auctioneer for "Sweet charity's sake — and the C.N.A.," with his tobacco auction type of patter, he broke records with high prices for donated items. When he sold off Table No. One of the upcoming Florida United Numismatists convention to benefit the Lewis M. Reagan Memorial Foundation, bidding started at $100 and moved quickly to "A thousand dollars," the successful bid of that Southern gentleman from Atlanta — Blaise Dantone. That's what I call fund raising!

William Louth, President of Medallic Arts Co., has just presented a gold convention medal to Miss Eva Adams, Director of the Mint. (Coin World photo)

And with that, it's "Thank you, Detroit" and "Hello, Denver." A memorable '62 convention and every prospect of another in '63.

HISTORICAL NOTES

Tribute to Dr. Heath

A group of A.N.A. representatives, headed by President C. C. Shroyer, left the busy convention Friday afternoon and journeyed to the peaceful city of Monroe, Mich. The purpose was to pay their respects to Dr. George F. Heath, founder of the A.N.A., at the final resting place in that city. They were accompanied by Donald R. Heath, son of the famous doctor, and his lovely wife.

As the limousine passed through Monroe, Mr. Heath pointed out the family home where his father first published The Numismatist, and a second residence where his father died. At Woodland Cemetery, they were joined by George W. Paxton, a life-long friend of the Heaths, and several members of the Monroe Coin Club. A floral tribute was placed at the memorial marker, erected by the A.N.A. in 1925, in a brief ceremony.

Those assembled then visited the Monroe Museum where mementos of Dr. Heath's are on display with those of another famed resident of Monroe, General George A. Custer, who was slain in the battle of the Little Big Horn. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Monroe Historical Society. These gracious ladies would welcome the donation of any or all mementos of Dr. Heath's to enhance the collection. This applies particularly to his most favorite projects, The Numismatist and the founding of the A.N.A. Please write Historian Ogilvie for particulars.

A.N.A. No. 1014. As a member of the Board at the time, his name appeared as such on the first petition. It was later replaced by his successor Dr. J. M. Henderson.

The correspondence that deLagerberg had with Congressman Ashbrook together with the Congressional Record for January 30, 1912 containing the debate on the bill in Congress, were all carefully preserved in the franked envelope of Ashbrook.

When deLagerberg died in 1936 the envelope was found with handwritten instructions for his heirs to present the documents to the A.N.A. on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the granting of the Charter, or at the 1962 annual convention. This request was to be carried out by his son, Lars G. deLagerberg.

Ill health prevented the younger deLagerberg from attending the Detroit convention, although he was a recipient of the twenty-five year membership award. General Secretary Sherer agreed to make the presentation for him and this was done at the Friday business meeting. The yellowing pages of these historic papers now repose in the archives of the Association. — JACK W. OGILVIE, LM 93, Historian.

City Federal Savings and Loan Association and had served as its Secretary-Treasurer. He was also a director of the Winston County Chamber of Commerce, an active Mason, and had received the Silver Beaver Scouting award for his work in Scouting.

HENRY A. BRAND, A.N.A. NO. 27750

Henry A. Brand, 58, died at his home in Schoharie, N. Y., on August 15 following a brief illness. E. CARROLL SHELTON, A.N.A. NO. 7184

E. Carroll Shelton, 63, died August 16 in Hot Springs, Ark., in a hospital which he had entered ten days earlier for an operation. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Shelton had resided in Hot Springs and been head of the Internal Revenue Service for 20 years, during which he earned a place of high esteem in a position where he had the sometimes unpleasant duty of enforcing the provisions of a complicated Federal tax law. In addition to being a member of American Numismatic Association since 1939, he was a 32nd Degree Mason, a member of the Hot Springs Elks Lodge and a member of the Board of Stewards of the Hot Springs First Methodist Church. He was one of those rare individuals who seemed to know everybody and be willing to help anyone in his hobby or in civic, lodge or church affairs.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Frances Shelton, brothers Elmo and Sterling of Little Rock, and a sister, Mrs. L. I. VanLandingham of Russellville.

Toronto Exhibition Dates Changed

The dates of the Greater Toronto Coin and Stamp Exhibition have been advanced one day to November 22-24. N.C.N.A. First Convention Report

The first annual convention of the Northern California Numismatic Association at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco, Sept. 7-9, was so successful and satisfactory that it was voted to hold the 1963 convention at the same location Sept. 5-8. Yes, it will be a four day affair.

Starting with a ribbon cutting ceremony attended by civic and numismatic dignitaries, the three days moved along smoothly under the direction of General Chairman Denis N. Hooker, with special assistance from John D. Sears, Roy Hill, Frank Rosa, Jr., and Wendell J. Hooker. At the Friday evening forum, John Williams of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank spoke on counterfeits and how to detect them; and Roy Hill spoke on the San Francisco Mint. Two auction sessions were held on Friday and one on Saturday by Leo A. Young of Oakland. Saturday opened with a breakfast and business meeting of officers and club representatives at which the incumbent officers were retained with the addition of Roy Hill to the Board. Plans for the 1963 convention were started, with Wendell J. Hooker, 930 "C" Street, Hayward, agreeing to handle inquiries for the time being. The Saturday evening banquet was presided over by Robert G. McArthur of Oakland. The exhibit awards were climaxed with the Best-in-Show to Clifford L. Liss of San Francisco, whose U. S. coin exhibit was titled "The Story of an Era." Three outstanding non-competitive exhibits were supplied by The Bank of California; Waddell F. Smith, a grandson of one of the founders of the Pony Express; and J. V. McDermott. The evening closed with delightful entertainment by "The Strugglers."

Due to good advance publicity by the numismatic press and local area newspapers, public interest was keen as indicated by the registration of 380 guests and attendance by some 2400 others. — ROY HILL, Publ. Chm.

Blue Ridge Report

Almost three thousand persons gathered from all sections of the United States and Canada for the Blue Ridge Numismatic Association's third annual convention August 23-26 in Atlanta, Ga. General Chairman Roy T. Payne of Atlanta led the Atlanta Coin Club as host to the four day meeting. Many of the conventioners came direct to Atlanta from the Detroit A.N.A.-C.N.A. convention. An honor guest of the convention was John J. Pittman of Rochester, N. Y., a Governor of the A.N.A. and a Director of the C.N.A., and recipient of a 1962 A.N.A. Medal of Merit.

Over one hundred dealers from the United States and Canada were present. Most reported regular business at the bourse tables.

Two auction sessions, with over eight hundred lots, were conducted by Thomas B. Hamilton of the Suburban Stamp & Coin Co., Decatur, Ga. Premium prices resulted from bids on uncirculated buffalo nickels and uncirculated standing liberty quarters.

Instead of a formal banquet, a buffet dinner was held Saturday evening. This plan was promptly approved by dealers, as it enabled them to be served without leaving the bourse tables.

Best-In-Show exhibits winner was Art Lovi, of Pensacola, Fla., with his monies of the world display. Other exhibit award plaques were won by: U. S. Coins: First, John McDonald; second, L. J. Hegedus; third, Walter C. Mays. U. S. Paper Money: First, L. A. Cook; second, W. M. Garrett. Foreign Coins and Paper Money: First, Ernest A. Meyer; second, George V. Werner; third, Walter C.

Gorski; second, L. A. Cook; third, Milton B. Smith. Club Exhibits: First, DeKalb Coin Club, Decatur, Ga.

A surprise presentation was made at the final business meeting by L. A. Cook of plaques contributed by BRNA members as expressions of appreciation to George T. Lunsford, outgoing President of the BRNA; Roy T. Payne as the new President, Grady C. Sizemore for his activities in the convention planning and as the Association's General Secretary.

Other new officers are: First Vice President, John C. Edwards; Second Vice President, Dr. Conway A. Bolt; General Secretary, Grady C. Sizemore; Treasurer, Allen B. Cagle.

Elected to the Board of Governors were: B. C. Denning; Thomas B. Hamilton; J. L. Jones; George T. Lunsford, J. V. Stewart.

Other convention committees included: John W. Teepell, Treasurer; Philip S. Reed and John Hooper, Exhibits; Pat Hamilton, Advertising; C. E. Kemp and Nick Poolos, Security; Allen "Bill" Cagle, Registration; and Margaret C. McAuley, Publicity.

It sounded like the double-talk chant of a tobacco market auctioneer — with that Deep South flavor — ringing out in the midst of the annual convention of the Blue Ridge Numismatic Association. But it was a tantalizing sample of numismatic auctioneering rendered by John J. Pittman of Rochester, N. Y., a Governor of the A.N.A. and a Director of the C.N.A. In Atlanta as an honor guest at the August 23-26 convention, Pittman was persuaded to demonstrate his inimitable style as a coin auctioneer for a radio interview.

Several convention interviews were taped for weekend broadcasts by Steve Thompson, "nightbeat" reporter for WSB-Radio, Atlanta. In another interview Pittman explained the origin of the phrase "not worth a continental," after the reporter expressed interest in an exhibit of continental currency.

Dr. C. A. Bolt of Marshville, N. C. gave an interesting interview on the mining and minting of gold in the Southern states.

Special Award

A special medal was ordered the day before the Blue Ridge Numismatic Association opened its third annual convention doors August 23 at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta, Ga. A silver medal was produced in record time after the surprise announcement of a new exhibit classification... for an exhibit that was not displayed at the convention.

J. McDonald

Designed by C. E. Kemp of Atlanta, the medal was formally presented at the convention by members of BRNA to "Jimmy" McDonald, young collector-dealer-exhibitor. "Jimmy" blushed and beamed broadly. His lovely wife, Elizabeth, was unable to be present.

The inscription on the medal read in part: "Proud Papa. 8-22-62." The happy occasion was the birth on Wednesday morning, August 22, of James Martin McDonald, first son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. McDonald, Jr., of Atlanta.

Letter from Miss Adams

Dear Mr. Sherer:

Thank you for your very nice letter of September 10. I am deeply honored by the Resolution which the American Numismatic Association adopted at its August convention, and am most grateful.

Please express to the members of the Association my sincere appreciation for this recognition. I hope I can be with you again.

Sincerely,
EVA ADAMS

Coin Game Devised By Hugh M. Knight

An intriguing family game called "Coin Store" has been devised by Hugh M. Knight, President of the Chicago Coin Club. Since it has been manufactured by Western Printing and Lithographing Co., it will be added to the Whitman coin supply line as a special feature item.

This new game consists of a board, movable figures, coin cards and dice. It is a progressive type game wherein the players move their men along a route of fun and profit to the coin store. The game may be played by both youngsters and adults and can be both exciting and educational.

TAMS Annual Meeting

The second annual meeting of the Token and Medal Society was held in Detroit, Mich., at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel August 16, 1962. Approximately 100 members and guests were in attendance. The session was called to order by Acting President James J. Curto.

Outgoing President George J. Fuld gave a glowing report on the activities of the Society. The membership rolls included 625 active members in most of the states as well as Canada, Mexico, Great Britain, Belgium and other countries. He also reported that seven Journals of the TAMS had been issued thus far, receiving favorable comment from numismatic scholars everywhere.

Legal Counsel Harry M. Lessin gave a brief report on adoption of the charter and bylaws, followed by a detailed report by Ellis Edlowitz on the charter. Following discussion over the proposed new rules, the assembly adopted the revised charter as proposed by Edlowitz.

Newly-appointed Editor Russell Rulau gave a brief account of what may be expected in 1962-1963 in the Journal. Librarian Clifford Mishler called for the donation to the TAMS Library of books and pamphlets on tokens and medals.

This resolution was adopted:

"The Token and Medal Society looks with disfavor upon the entire field of imitations of numismatic items, be they known as replicas, copies, restrikes or whatever, and for whatever purpose originally intended. The possibilities of fraud in eventual resale are inherent in their existence, and furthermore overproduction of the copy tends to lessen the respect and integrity of the original.

"Be it therefore resolved that the Token and Medal Society hereby bans from any sale, direct or auction, under its auspices, all unmarked replicas, copies, facsimilies, electrotypes and the like.

"Be it further resolved, that the Token and Medal Society hereby bans from any sale, direct or auction, under its auspices, all marked replicas, copies, facsimilies, electrotypes and the like, except those having the word COPY incused plainly on the item.

"Be it further resolved, that the Token and Medal Society will accept no advertisements in its Journal for any type of imitation of a numismatic item except those specifically recommended by the committee on ethics named next.

"Be it further resolved that a committee on ethics be appointed by the president to study the entire matter of imitations and forgeries and recommend further actions against them and prepare exact definitions of them.

"Be it finally resolved, that the Token and Medal Society will take such action against manufacturers and purveyors of numismatic imitations as it may be advised, including expulsion from membership and publicizing its disfavor with imitations and recommending legal actions where applicable."

Officers and Governors are: President James J. Curto, First Vice President Max M. Schwartz, Second Vice President Paul H. Hamm, Secretary William B. Spilman, Treasurer Virginia Culver, Legal Counsel Ellis Edlowitz and Harry M. Lessin; Governors Melvin Fuld, Ralph A. Mitchell, Maurice M. Gould, Dr. George J. Fuld, Russell Rulau, Harold C. Schmal. From a 25-Year Member

Dear Mr. Sherer:

Words are inadequate to express my feelings at receiving the 25th anniversary silver medal. It was waiting for me upon my return from vacation.

It is I who am on the debit side, for the articles in The Numismatist are a definite contribution towards advancing and promoting the cause of numismatics. To me they have become must reading instead of title screening.

Please accept my appreciation.

Sincerely,

MISS MADELINE R. STUBER

Ltd. revised issue, all varieties illustrated in halftones, high quality paper. Covers regular patterns, experimental and trial pieces, die strikes, restrikes and pieces de caprice. Contains as much information as possible, through Breen's search in the National Archives and the Longacre papers in the Library Company of Philadelphia and Dr. Judd's extensive research of all available private and public museum collections as well as a careful checking of all auction listings since 1845. Its many corrections, revisions and additions make other pattern books obsolete. An appendix converts old A-W numbers to Judd numbers.

First published by Arco Publications, London. North American section has been checked by Charles Wormser and John J. Ford. United States Half Cents, 1793-1857, the Empire Guide, a new revised and complete guide to die varieties, by Q. David Bowers and James F. Ruddy, 1962, Empire Coin Co., Empire Bldg., Johnson City, N. Y., 47 pp., heavy paper covers, illus. in text, $3.95 postpaid. Lists and describes a hundred and thirty-two varieties and many subvarieties with notation of distinguishing features. Banking, Journal of the American Bankers Association, August, 1962. "The Centennial Story of the National Bank Note" by Herbert Bratter. An illustrated article that was written for the banker but contains interesting information to the student and collector of paper money. "One Hundred Years of Making Money" by H. J. Holtzclaw, Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, is an all too brief account of the development of this manufactory of government obligations, which celebrated its one hundredth birthday on August 29, 1962; stresses technologic developments in the art of intaglio printing at the Bureau.

1963 Handbook of United States Coins with Premium List by Richard S. Yeoman, 20th edition, 1962, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., illus., 126 pp., hard covers, $1.00. The famous "Blue Book" eagerly awaited each year, this edition has been widely revised. More condition columns in nearly every series coincides closely with the recently revised "Red Book." Brief guides to grading are placed before each major coin type, based on the Brown-Dunn system. Commemoratives are arranged alphabetically instead of chronologically. Several new photos, such as the 1938-D over S five cent piece are included. Otherwise, basic format remains unchanged.

The History of the Gold Sovereign by Sir Geoffrey Duveen and H. G. Stride, Oxford University Press, London, 1962, cloth covers, eighteen plates, 112 pp., $4.80. Not only deals with the numismatic aspects of the coin, but also the historic and economic phases as well. For instance, the importance of her gold coinage in Great Britain's trade with the Continent is shown. In their researches the authors made use of Lady Duveen's fine collection and of valuable Mint record books. Sir Geoffrey Duveen is an attorney and H. G. Stride is chief clerk at the Royal Mint. Readable and authentic.

Numisma, an Occasional Numismatic Magazine, June, 1962, 16 pp. Privately published by John Gartner at the Hawthorn Press, 15 Guildford Lane, Melbourne C1, Australia, 12/6 ($1.50) subscription for four issues. "Establishment of a New National Mint at Canberra" is the full text of the official statement by the Treasurer on April 29, 1962. "The Coinage of the Free City of Danzig" by John Gartner is a checklist of the coins struck from 1920 to 1937, although the free city existed from 1919 to Hitler's invasion of Poland in 1939. The city is now behind the Iron Curtain. "Australian Tokens—Annand, Smith & Co., Family Grocers, Melbourne" by David Moorhead. "Communist Bank Notes in Malaya" by Basil Rossi reveals that notes bearing the portrait of Lenin were secretly issued by the Communist terrorists in the Malayan campaigns of 1955-1956, although the author has never seen one. A line drawing of one is in this article. Denominations issued were 5¢, 10¢, 50¢, $1 and $5. It is not known whether Lenin's picture is on all but the signature on the currency, Ma Lit Boon, is entirely fictitious.

Calcoin News, Fall, 1962. "Rise and Fall of the Netherlands Empire" by Milton Strauch details the country's history and touches on the Leyden siege coins of paper and silver, the Amsterdam trade dollars, the United Company of Zeeland's eight real piece, and other coins. "Replicas, Copies and Restrikes" is an editorial by Russell Rulau. "The American Trade Dollar" by Mrs. Harry Cutler is a three page story of that coin. "World War II - Corregidor" by Lawrence G. Tyler is a first person account of the disposal of the Philippine Treasury's silver coins in Manila Bay just before the fall of the islands to the Japanese. This issue's "Who's Who" by R. G. McArthur is the biographical sketch of Cele and Bill Hutt. "1962 Trade Dollars" by Dennis Olswang refer to the Seattle Fair's so-called dollars, and the Redding, Cal. "gold dollar."

Colonial Newsletter, April-June, 1962, P. O. Box 114, Wayland, Mass., 12 pp. "Humdingers and Buzzers" by Edward R. Barnsley introduces two new terms to numismatics. The author thought the double-holed Colonial coins sometimes found were made to amuse children rather than made for buttons. As a test, he threaded a two-holed 1787 Machins Mills cent with a string and asked his young son what the boy thought it was. The boy said it was a "humdinger" because of the humming sound given off when the string ends were held in each hand, the string tightly twisted, and then unwound rapidly. The term "buzzers" is applied to similar "contraptions" in an article "Children's Toys Found in Revolutionary Camps" by W. L. Calver, New York Historical Bulletin, January, 1921, cited by Barnsley. "New Virginia Reverse" by Ted Craige says he has discovered a new Virginia Rev. V combined with Obv. 13. "More Comments on the Fugio Cents of 1787" by James C. Spilman is a discussion of the Z reverse, which the author terms "unquestionably the most interesting of the regular reverses." "The French Colonies Sou of 1767" by Robert A. Vlack is the third instalment in this series.

The Fantastic 1804 Dollar by Eric P. Newman and Kenneth E. Bressett, associates in research, Walter H.

Breen and Lynn Glaser, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., 1962, hard covers, illus., 144 pp., $3.50. This is the long awaited book on the "King of American Coins," so-called, and the result of ten years research reading, analyzing and evaluating every scrap of information on the subject to the authors' conclusion no silver dollars bearing that date were ever made in 1804. The fantastic part is the fact that certain dollars dated 1804 were issued in later years by the U. S. Mint. With meticulous care and full documentation the authors' unravel the tangled events and reveal details of an almost unbelievable nature. Kipling's "six serving men" (i.e., How, Who, What, When, Where and Why) are answered in this book, which is late enough to include the most recent revelation - that of David Spink and James Risk at the A.N.A.-C.N.A. convention at Detroit. Complete pedigree listing of every known specimen along with the name of every owner of each specimen is given as are physical description and pictures of each of the fourteen known coins. The authors present a most convincing account of this "coin of mystery."

Lawyers Title News, April, 1962. "Money Museum in Michigan" by James Keith refers to that of the National Bank of Detroit.

Journal of the Token and Medal Society, May-August, 1962, "New Reference Books on Tokens and Medals." "Embossed or Shell Store Cards" by Ralph A. Mitchell is the seventh instalment. "Cards and Tokens of Thomas L. Elder" by E. Smith and "Wright's American Store Cards" by J. J. Curto are other continuations. "Spiel Marken" by Russell Rulau, George Fuld, Maurice Gould is the first instalment of "a consolidation of the efforts of previous writers and an expansion of previously published data" on the spiel marke or game counter.

Australian Numismatist, June, 1962, official publication of the Numismatic Association of Victoria, W. E. Curran, Sec., 21 Wales St., Springvale, Victoria. "The Origin of Coinage" by I. R. Young is a once-over-lightly treatment of an admittedly large subject. "The River with a Medal" by Edward S. Anthony relates the story of the conferring of a medal in honor of the first man to navigate successfully the Murray River in Australia. "Five Years to Turn to Decimals." "Nobles or Royals" are suggested names for the as yet nonexistent decimal unit. — ELSTON G. BRADFIELD

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF MISSOURI WILLARD PREBLE HALL, U.S.A.

Governor Hall was born in Virginia in 1820, of New England ancestry. After graduating from Yale in 1839, he went to Missouri the next year to study law in the office of his brother, Judge William A. Hall. After qualifying for the bar, he began the practice of law. In 1846, he was nominated for Congress, enlisted in the First Missouri Cavalry shortly before the election took place but, upon winning the election, was relieved of further active military service. He went on to serve three terms in Congress. Despite the obvious and ever growing division of opinion in Missouri as war approached, Commander-in-Chief of Missouri Willard Preble Hall, U.S.A., on $50 - Defense Warrant of the State of Missouri, June 25, 1861 (Grover C. Criswell Collection). Portrait not known on other notes.

Hall left no doubt as to his position. His strong Unionist feelings became even more pronounced as the opposition succeeded in electing the proslavery candidate, Claiborne F. Jackson, as Governor of the State in 1861. After war became a reality and Missouri split into two armed camps, a convention was called hastily for the northern half of the State on July 30, 1861, to appoint new State officials to replace Jackson and others who had set up their own seat of government at Neosho, Missouri. The convention elected Hamilton R. Gamble as Provisional Governor and Willard P. Hall as Lieutenant Governor. Upon Gamble's death in January, 1864, Hall succeeded him as Provisional Governor until the following January when he was succeeded by the duly elected Thomas C. Fletcher. Hall, who was a dominant figure in the State even before Gamble's death, also assumed the title of Commander-in-Chief of Missouri. Many of his rulings were of a military nature and he was in charge of the important Missouri State Militia, which defended the State in the absence of Federal troops who were needed more urgently elsewhere. After the war, Hall resumed his law practice and died in 1882.

PRESIDENT AND GENERAL JEFFERSON DAVIS, C. S. A.

Jefferson Davis was born in Kentucky in 1808, graduated from West Point in 1828, twenty-third in a class of thirty-three, and also attended Transylvania College. His first seven years in the regular army were spent in the Northwest. He resigned from the army in 1835 to elope with Zachary Taylor's daughter and settled down in Mississippi but his bride died three months after marriage. Davis remarried in 1845, the same year he was elected to Congress from Mississippi. He resigned, however, to fight in the Mexican War. In 1847, he declined an appointment as Brig. General, preferring to return to public life as a Senator. In 1853, he was appointed Secretary of War by President Pierce. He then served as a Senator until January, 1861, when his state seceded. Davis was chosen Provisional President of the Confederacy at the 1861 Montgomery Convention, as well as being made Major Portrait also on: $50 – Confederate States of America notes, Richmond, Sept. 2, 1861, Dec. 2, 1862 and April 6, 1863; Confederate States of America note, Richmond, 50 cents, Feb. 17, 1864; $1, $2 and $3 Arkansas Treasury warrants with written dates from 1861 to 1865; $1 – State of Missouri note, Jefferson City, Jan. 1, 1862; $100 Missouri Defense bond, authorized Nov. 5, 1861; 5 cents – Johnson House, Huntsville, Ala.; and many others.

General of the State Militia. He was inaugurated President of the permanent Confederate government at Richmond on February 22, 1862. Davis was revered greatly at first, but like the leader of any losing cause, had to assume responsibility for the many setbacks later, which diminished his popularity. He and his cabinet finally were compelled to flee Richmond and he presided over it for the last time on April 24, 1865, at Charlotte, N. C. He was captured at Irwinsville, Ga. on May 10, 1865 and was held for two years at Fort Monroe. However, he was never brought to trial, being released finally on bail. He wrote The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government in 1881, and died in 1889.

SECRETARY OF WAR JUDAH PHILIP BENJAMIN, C. S. A.

Secretary of War Benjamin was born in 1811 in the West Indies but was raised in South Carolina. At the tender age of fourteen he entered Yale. Upon graduation he moved to New Orleans, where he practiced law and later held minor political offices. Benjamin's law partner was John Slidell, the noted Confederate diplomat who was captured while on an English ship on the high seas during the war and removed to a Union vessel, in what has become known as the "Trent Affair." Although Benjamin became a United States Senator just prior to the war, he resigned that position to become Attorney General of the Provisional Confederate government, serving in that capacity from February 25 to September 17, 1861. He then succeeded Leroy P. Walker as Secretary of War. Early in 1862 he took over as Secretary of State, succeeding R. M. T. Hunter, and held this position for the remainder of the war. In 1865 Benjamin fled to the Bahamas and from there to England, supposedly with a goodly amount of personal funds. Upon arrival in England, he practiced law and by 1872 had become Queen's Counsel. Several of his legal treatises were published and have become classics in law. He died in 1884.

GENERAL PIERRE GUSTAVE TOUTANT BEAUREGARD, C. S. A.

General Beauregard was born in Louisiana in 1818 and graduated from West Point in 1838, second highest in a class of forty-five. He served as an engineer on Gen. Scott's staff in the Mexican War. From 1858 to 1861 he was Chief Engineer of the New Orleans waterway system. Early in 1861 he became Superintendent of West Point, but resigned on February 20 and accepted appointment as Brig. General in the Confederate Army on March 1. Sent at once to Charleston, he commanded the initial attack on Fort Sumter and returned to Richmond as the "Hero of Sumter." In June, 1861, he took command of troops at Manassas Junction and also had an active part in the first victorious Battle of Bull Run. Beauregard received a full General's rating on August 31. Early in 1862 he was transferred to the west and succeeded Gen. Albert S. Johnston after the latter's initial successes and death at Shiloh. Becoming ill in June, 1862, Beauregard turned his command over to Gen. Bragg and went on sick leave, for which act he was relieved of his command. He was later placed in charge of defenses of the Georgia and Carolina coast. Early in 1864 he defeated Gen. Butler at Drewry's Bluff and in June he successfully fought off vigorous assaults on Petersburg, Va. After a second transfer to the west, he was placed second in command to Gen. Joseph E. Johnston in the Carolina campaign of 1864-65.

GENERAL HOWELL COBB, C. S. A.

General Cobb was born in 1815 in Georgia, the son of a wealthy planter. He graduated from the University of Georgia in 1834 and two years later became a practicing attorney. He entered politics and was a Whig Congressman 1843-1851 and 1855-1857. In 1851, at the age of 36, he became Governor of Georgia, holding that office until 1854. He became President Buchanan's first Secretary of the Treasury in 1857. In 1861 he was the presiding officer at the historic Montgomery convention, as well as a strong candidate for the presidency of the Confederacy. At the outbreak of war, Cobb was commissioned Colonel of the 16th Georgia Regiment, and in February, 1862, was appointed Brig. General. His main military action was at the Battle of Antietam (Sharpsburg). Rugged field duty was not Cobb's forte, however, and he accepted command of Georgia's reserve forces with the title of Commander of the District of Georgia, and with the rank of Major General from September 9, 1863 on. Cobb was at least partially successful in reconciling the deep feud between Jefferson Davis and Georgia Governor Joseph E. Brown. After the war Cobb returned to the practice of law until his death in 1868.

GENERAL JOHN BUCHANAN FLOYD, C. S. A.

General Floyd was a Virginian, born in 1806. Upon graduation from South Carolina College, he practiced law and was a cotton grower in Arkansas. He decided to enter politics and served in the legislature and as a States Rights Governor. He became President Buchanan's Secretary of War from 1857 to December 29, 1860. Very active in the Southern cause even before war came, Floyd was accused of overbuilding the supplies and guns in southern arsenals in anticipation of their early capture. He also raised a brigade and was appointed Brigadier General on May 23, 1861. After serving for a short time in Virginia, he was transferred to the West. His assignment to Fort Donelson, Tennessee, was unfortunate because that Fort came under heavy Federal attack shortly thereafter. When the loss appeared imminent, he turned his command over to General Buckner and escaped. For this act he was relieved of his command on March 11, 1862. The Virginia legislature appointed him Major General of the Virginia State Line on May 17, 1862. His health had deteriorated greatly and he died in August, 1863.

GENERAL THOMAS JONATHAN JACKSON, C. S. A.

General Jackson was born in Virginia in 1824 and graduated from West Point in 1846. Arriving there as an awkward boy in homespun clothing, he proved his worth by finishing 17th in a class of fifty-nine. After winning two brevets in the Mexican War for valiant service, he resigned from the army in 1851 to teach at the new Virginia Military Institute. When war came he was appointed Colonel of Confederate Infantry. Ordered to Harpers Ferry, he organized what later became known as the "Stonewall Brigade." On June 17, 1861, he was appointed Brigadier General. Brilliant work in the victory at the first Battle of Bull Run won him the nickname "Stonewall" and resulted in a promotion to Major General on August 7, 1861. Upon being given his own command, Jackson demonstrated his great ability, both in a lightning-like envelopment of General Pope's command at Bull Run, and also at Antietam. For this fine work, he was promoted to Lt. General on October 10, 1862 and won command of the important 2nd Corps, Army of Northern Virginia. But his brilliant work as Lee's strong right arm in the Battle of Chancellorsville was his last. On May 2, 1863 he was wounded accidentally by one of his own men and died eight days later. Jackson was very religious, a teetotaler and never smoked or played cards. When notified of Jackson's death, Lee said sadly, "I know not how to replace him."

GENERAL LEONIDAS POLK, C. S. A.

General Polk was born in North Carolina in 1806, attended the University of North Carolina, which his father had helped found, and graduated from West Point in 1827. Six months later he began studying for the ministry. He became progressively a deacon in 1830, a missionary Bishop in the Southwest in 1838 and Bishop of Louisiana in 1841. He continued in this capacity until 1861 when his West Point friend and classmate, Jefferson Davis, prevailed upon him to accept an army commission of a technical nature. His appointment as a Major General on June 25, 1861 was for the purpose of fortifying the Mississippi River with proper engineering and defensive works. This peaceful pattern changed rapidly, however, as the swift path of war moved down the big river. Polk was forced to assume command in actual defensive combat and, in a small engagement at Belmont, Mo., he turned back Gen. U. S. Grant. In the great battle of Shiloh, Polk was placed in charge of the Confederate right wing. Upon the death of Gen. Albert S. Johnston, Polk became second in command to Gen. Bragg at Perryville, Ky. He also fought in the Stones River, Tenn. campaign and was made a Lt. General on October 10, 1862. Polk was killed in action at Pine Mountain, Ga. on June 14, 1864.

GENERAL GEORGE WYTHE RANDOLPH, C. S. A.

General Randolph was born in Virginia in 1818 near the Monticello home of Thomas Jefferson, the son of a Governor of Virginia. After studying at Cambridge, Mass. for a short time, he served as a midshipman in the navy for six years. He then studied law at the University of Virginia, and after graduation became a member of the State Assembly. After John Brown's famous raid, Randolph organized the "Richmond Howitzers," a militia type unit. When war came in 1861 he was placed in command of all Confederate howitzers in the Peninsula campaign. He was appointed Colonel, and became Gen. Magruder's Chief of artillery at Big Bethel, the first land battle of the war. On February 12, 1862 he was made a Brigadier General. But Randolph was removed from active field duty to become Confederate Secretary of War on March 22, 1862. In November the same year he resigned this position to again take a more active part in the war. Although given a field command, his failing health reduced his effectiveness greatly. Finally forced to resign on Dec. 18, 1864, he went to France to recover from tuberculosis. He returned to Virginia after the war but died in 1867.

GENERAL DAVID EMANUEL TWIGGS, C. S. A.

General Twiggs was born in Georgia in 1790 and his military career began as a Captain in the War of 1812. As a member of the regular army he fought in the Black Hawk, Seminole and Mexican Wars, by which time he had reached the rank of Brevet Major General. For his work at Monterrey he was given a special award by Congress. Twiggs held various departmental commands in the 1850s, all of them in the South. As war approached in 1861, his sympathies were strongly for the South, and he surrendered his forces and supplies without resistance to McCulloch and his Texas Rangers in February, 1861. This act cost him his commission as of March 1. Twenty-one days later he was named a Major General in the Confederate Army, in command of the District of Louisiana. He saw little active service, however, as he was already at an advanced age and his health was failing rapidly. He died on July 15, 1862. His daughter married Abraham C. Myers, the first Quartermaster General of the Confederacy.

COLONEL ZEBULON BAIRD VANCE, C. S. A.

Colonel Vance was born in North Carolina in 1830. He spent one year at the University of North Carolina, later studying law and becoming interested in politics. He was successively a member of the State Legislature and U. S. Congress. Although opposed to secession, he volunteered for service when his State seceded. Following an original commission as a Captain, he was appointed Colonel in August, 1861. He saw action in the fighting around New Bern and in the Seven Days' Battle. Although in line for a General's rating, he ran for and was elected Governor of North Carolina, succeeding Governor Clark on Jan. 1, 1863. In 1865 he was reelected. Following the war he was defeated in a bid for a U. S. Senate seat, but in 1877 became Governor of North Carolina for the third time. In 1879 he was elected U. S. Senator from his home State. He died in 1894. Colonel Vance's brother, Robert B. Vance, became a Confederate General on April 23, 1863, but his portrait is not known to be on any obsolete note.

COLONEL THOMAS HILL WATTS, C. S. A.

Colonel Watts was born in Alabama in 1819. After graduation from the University of Virginia he entered the legal profession. His next step was into politics as a member of the State legislature, in which capacity he served a number of years as a Whig. As war approached, he remained an ardent foe of secession, but Lincoln's election and the use of force shortly thereafter caused him to become a leading member in Alabama's Secession Convention in 1861. At about the same time, he raised the 17th Alabama Regiment and was made Colonel of it despite lack of previous military experience. His unit was used in the defense at Pensacola and Corinth. However, he was not a military man by nature and so he accepted the post of Attorney General in President Davis' cabinet when it was offered in March, 1862. Watts held this cabinet position until December 1, 1863, when he became Governor of Alabama. Following the war, Watts returned to the practice of law. He died in 1892.

WALDO C. MOORE

Thirteenth President, 1919 to 1921

By

JACK W. OGILVIE, LM 93, HISTORIAN

The tenure of our thirteenth President proved to be lucky, because the organization awakened from a profound sleep, brought about by the waning interest in numismatics during the war years. Shortly after his administration began the Association started to grow again and a renewed interest prevailed. Was this due to the Versailles Treaty or to the spirited drive for achievements of the man destined to be the thirteenth person to hold the high office?

Waldo C. Moore

Waldo C. Moore was born in Verona, Ohio on July 23, 1874. After receiving his education, he was a school teacher for six years, then entered the banking business, becoming cashier of a bank in Lewisburg, Ohio, where he moved in 1899. Previously, he met Imogene Horn of that little city and in 1896 married her. He was a Methodist, Republican and member of several fraternal orders and historical groups. He collected Lincolniana, stamps, Ohio numismatic items and, as he once said "about everything collectible." Combining his numismatic and fraternal inclinations, he joined the A.N.A. in December, 1904 as No. 637.

Waldo took a bit more time than was usually the case to toss his chapeau into the political ring. In fact, it was eight years later that he became General Secretary under Judson Brenner. Moore handled the office efficiently and was reelected four times, serving from 1912 until 1916. He was the first General Secretary to receive compensation — an amount that barely covered his convention expenses. His next office was Chairman of the Board from 1917 to 1919. He was elected thirteenth President over Dr. George P. French at the 1919 Philadelphia convention.

When Moore assumed the Presidency, he had a completely new slate of officers with the exception of T. E. Leon, a Board Member. Henry Chapman became First Vice President; R. W. McLachlan, Second Vice President; Harry Yawger, General Secretary and Librarian; George J. Bauer, Treasurer; Moritz Wormser, Chairman of the Board; Foster Lardner, Preston C. Pond and F. N. Boyle, Board members. One of their first acts was the customary drive for new members. This time, miraculously, it worked.

On page 513 of the December, 1919, Numismatist, a small ad electrified the numismatic world. Samuel W. Brown of North Tonawanda, N. Y. wanted to buy a 1913 Liberty Head nickel in proof condition and was offering $500. The ad continued to appear in the next three issues of 1920, then was withdrawn. More later!

The A.N.S. awarded Howland Wood the Huntington medal for his outstanding services to numismatics. Canada reduced its silver coinage from 925 to 800 fine and all coins struck after January 1, 1920 were of the later ratio. Its large cent was discontinued and the small cent inaugurated. The U. S. Government banned the photographing of currency, bonds and legal papers. It also continued the seizure of broken bank bills and Confederate paper money as well as the fractional "gold charms."

George H. Blake, paper money expert was named chairman of a committee to confer with the Secret Service regarding a compromise on the seizure of the bills. After several conferences, the Service agreed not to disturb honest collectors from holding, nor reputable dealers from selling the obsolete currency, so long as it did not fall into unscrupulous hands. Blake furnished them a list of dealers he felt should be granted this privilege. Meanwhile, news dispatches revealed that Confederate paper money was found circulating in large quantities in Berlin and other German cities.

The 1920 Chicago convention ran from August 23 to 26, with a registration of seventy-nine. President Moore, in his address, praised the cooperation he had received from the other officers in building up the membership and treasury, and commended Frank Duffield for publishing a bigger and better Numismatist.

A heated discussion arose during a business meeting over the list of dealers that George Blake had submitted to the Secret Service. It seemed that no dealers nor other members of his committee knew just who was on the list. Who were the reputable dealers and who weren't? Someone quipped that the Secret Service operated "in secret." After a spirited debate, Dr. Henderson put through a motion that Blake submit the controversial list to the Board of Governors.

A paper submitted by Farran Zerbe strongly urged the minting of a coin commemorating peace, preferably of dollar size and for general circulation. Dr. Henderson put through a resolution that a committee be appointed to present the idea to the Government. The 1921 Peace dollar eventually resulted.

Chairman of the Board, Moritz Wormser, stated in his report that criticism had been made by some that certain dealers were using the exhibition room and tables to display numismatic items they had for sale, instead of for display. (It should be pointed out that the present day dealer's bourse did not exist at that time.) When Wormser agreed with the critics, the fireworks started! Several prominent dealers felt the insinuation was leveled toward them. Others "got in the act." A number of vehement remarks were stricken from the minutes! Opinions waxed pro and con until President Moore restored order and pronounced the outcome a tie!

This excitement was overshadowed by another incident in the exhibition room. In one of the display cases was a specimen of the 1913 Liberty Head nickel! Samuel Brown of North Tonawanda, placed it there the first day of the convention with the information that he would pay $600 for other good specimens. With this, he departed! (Page 466, October, 1920, Numismatist.) Evidently Brown's ads paid off with at least one specimen, although some felt that they were used as feelers to ascertain if other specimens might appear on the market. The chain reaction set off by this first display of the now famous rarity has extended on down to the present. Research may, in time, reveal just what Samuel W. Brown, A.N.A. No. 808, erstwhile employee of the U. S. Mint and later Mayor of North Tonawanda, knew of the discovery of the five famous nickels that were later found in Col. E. H. R. Green's fabulous collection. It is possible that the real story was buried when he died on June 17, 1944.

The 1920 convention adjourned after a most exciting meeting, but not until it had awarded an Honorary membership to that great Canadian numismatist, R. W. McLachlan, and elected its officers for the ensuing year. President Moore was reelected, as were most of the others. Fred Joy became Second Vice President, Sam Chapman and newcomer Charles Markus were named to the Board.

In January, 1921, prominent Chicago numismatist, Alden Scott Boyer revealed that he had retained the 1913 Liberty Head displayed at the convention, but that Brown had requested its return as he had a prospective buyer for the coin at a price of $750.

The agreement that 450 copies of The Numismatist be furnished to members of the American Numismatic Society, was terminated at the Society's request on December 31, 1920. Thereafter, proceedings of the A.N.S. meetings were dropped from the A.N.A. official organ. It was an economy move on the part of the Society, with relations remaining most cordial and individual subscriptions all but made up the deficit in the circulation of The Numismatist.

The Association celebrated its thirtieth birthday when the 1921 convention convened in Boston, August 20 to 25, with a registration of ninety-nine. The exhibits were the usual high standard and the entertainment thoroughly enjoyed. The business meetings were of a milder nature than those of the previous year and groundwork was laid for several innovations. President Moore pointed with pride – and poetry – at the gains in membership and the treasury balance. He brought out that new bylaws had been adopted, that for the fifteenth time the A.N.A. had placed a representative on the Annual Assay Commission, that the committee on the Peace dollar had made great strides, and he warned that, even at that date, Communism was making its move toward free America, and that "it should be thwarted." Moore then declined a third term and in the election, Moritz Wormser became President.

The Moore administration ended with an enrollment of over seven hundred active members, an all time high at that date. From among the over two hundred new enrollees, the following still grace our rolls: G. H. Emery, Karl B. Diehl, Fred Durin, H. Dale Kuhn, Dr. W. W. Emrich, Ernest Cernay, S. L. Moore, Norris Bruce and G. H. Mathewson. Names of long time members, familiar to many of us include: William C. Piper, Octave Pelletier, Edward Flieder, Leonard Westervelt, Mrs. Marie G. Boyer, George L. Hamilton, William D. Morrill, C. H. Martin, Roland DeHaan and Frank Ruwwe. Prominent dealers were: John Zug, L. A. Cardwell, Wm. Rabin and Horace M. Grant. Among the writers were: Honorary, Gilbert S. Perez, an authority on Philippine numismatics; Chas. H. Fisher; M. L. Beistle who wrote the standard book on half dollars; F. D. Langenheim and Shepard Pond, both of whom also served as officers.

Waldo Moore was another high official who possessed a gift for writing. Like August G. Heaton, he had a flair for expressing his thoughts in poetry and more than a score of these ditties appeared in The Numismatist. Other bits of verse were offtime woven in the text of the many articles he wrote for the official magazine. These covered a variety of subjects, including tokens and Ohio numismatics. He equaled the incomparable Zerbe in volume and, like the Dean, was quite an orator.

Ex-President Moore remained active in A.N.A. affairs for years after he relinquished the high office. He became Life Member No. 7 when that group was organized in 1922, and served on the Board again in 1924-25. He took a diligent part in many future conventions and was awarded Honorary membership in 1939. The Association lost a faithful ex-official and a great numismatist when he died in January, 1953, survived by his widow.

"In a tragic comedy, the hard pressed American currency administration synchronized (by the President's Executive Order of July 20) U. S. gold legislation with that of the Soviets, by depriving U. S. citizens of their right to hold gold coins abroad or import them into America. Gold coins subsequently jumped 20% or more in price in New York and capital flight from the U. S., as well as smuggling of such coins into the U. S., began on quite some scale." (From "Latest Gold Restrictions by U. S. Raise Prices, Induce Smuggling," The Northern Miner, August 9, 1962, Toronto.)

U. S. SANITARY FAIR MEDALS

By

NATHAN N. EGLIT, A.N.A. No. 11713

WITHIN days after President Lincoln called for troops following the attack on Fort Sumter northern women formed aid societies to furnish comforts and necessities, as well as medical aid and welfare to the newly enlisted soldiers. The first organization of this type was formed in Bridgeport, Connecticut, on April 15, 1861. By April 29th at a meeting of influential women held at the Cooper Union in New York City, the Women's Central Association of Relief had been organized. This organization was at first rebuffed by the Army Medical Bureau, which knew, however, it could not cope with the problem of sanitation and hygiene for the newly organized army. It was inadequately prepared, it had no nurses, and had no ambulances and very little in medical supplies. Under the leadership of Rev. Henry W. Bellows of the Unitarian Church in New York, who traveled to Washington with a committee of women from the Women's Central Association, the matter of establishing a Commission for the Sanitary Interests of the United States Forces was presented to Secretary of War Cameron. On June 9th, Cameron issued an order to establish the commission which Lincoln signed hesitantly. Under Bellows leadership the Sanitary Commission was established and he was elected its president on June 12th, 1861.

Harper's Weekly of July 6, 1861, pointed out to its readers that "The good sense and absolute necessity of such a commission are too apparent to be argued," and pointed out the terrible experiences of the English Army in the Crimean War where four out of five soldiers died of disease and lack of medical care. It went on to say that "For many very evident reasons the commission prefers to appeal directly to the public and not to Congress. The Government has given it rooms in the Treasury Building. The Surgeon General of the Army has given it full authority to inspect and examine all posts, camps and hospitals; and the Secretary of War has ordered that all persons in government service shall assist the commission to the utmost. . . . There is no department of service in the war that will be more beneficial than this if it be furnished the means to work. If it is enabled to do what it can do, it will save twenty thousand out of every hundred thousand lives that are offered for the war, which would otherwise be lost from exposure and disease."

The drive for funds to support the Sanitary Commission in due time resulted in the holding of Sanitary Fairs in various cities. The first to be held was in Chicago on November 5, 1863, which was highly successful. People flocked to that city to attend. Gifts of merchandise and all sorts of commodities were donated. Gate receipts were double the amount expected. Within several months thereafter the fever for holding such fairs swept the North and were held in Boston, Brooklyn, New York and Philadelphia. Most of the fairs were held in 1863 and 1864. The last fair was held in Chicago in May, 1865, which raised $200,000, which the Commission sadly needed for the rehabilitation of crippled and incapacitated discharged soldiers. The Commission distributed $15,000,000 in supplies during the war. Funds received were over $5,000,000, two-thirds from Sanitary Fairs.

In the issue of November 21, 1863, Harper's Weekly stated that "The work of the Sanitary Commission is the great episode of the War. It is not a less remarkable popular uprising and persistence than the armies and the fighting. When you think of the hands and brains and hearts all over the land that are working, thinking and feeling all day long and every day for this great work, you feel only more profoundly than ever that any task whatever to which an intelligent people addressed itself, as the Free States have given themselves to this war, is sure of its triumph. Behind the army in the field is this supporting army twenty times larger. It is the vast reserve, constantly indicating its presence and cooperation. . . . If any body has anything to give for relief or comfort of the soldier, however small, it is received with thanks, and the facilities of the Commission cause it to be put exactly where it is most wanted.

"The new event in its career is the fairs which are held all over the country. We hear of a most successful one in Portland, Maine, while that of the Northwest at Chicago is truly Northwestern in its scope, duration and results."

Some of the changes that resulted from the efforts of this commission may be summed up briefly. This body instituted a system of recording burials of those who died in hospitals or on the battlefields. From this work there developed a Bureau of Vital Statistics. And it was from these records that the army was convinced that more men died from disease, unsanitary conditions and lack of medical care than from actual combat. Doctors enrolled as associate members prepared medical monographs of the latest techniques and discoveries in Europe, as well as in the United States, which were then distributed to doctors in army hospitals and prison camps, as well as those in the field. Doctors in service, were conversely, encouraged to write reports of cases, that could then be published and distributed to others. Transporting the wounded to hospitals in box cars, which laid over on sidings with no access to proper medical care, while preference was given to the movement of war supplies, was also changed.

During the Peninsular campaign the suffering of the wounded that were left neglected for days was especially severe. This condition spurred Dr. Elisha Harris into an effort which resulted in hospital trains getting fast and priority routings. It also inspired Dr. Harris to develop a hospital car with hospital equipment, safety couches and litters anchored properly to withstand the jolting of the train, and the hiring of attendants to administer to the comforts of the wounded. The Sanitary Commission paid for equipping this car and paid the wages of the attendants. This hospital car was exhibited at the Paris Exhibition of 1867 where it received a prize award. A precedent was established for rehabilitation and relief to wounded discharged soldiers by its establishment of rest homes and special relief centers for soldiers needing help in filing claims, providing facilities for obtaining papers, and even helping families of soldiers after their return home.

Like all new institutions the work of the Sanitary Commission did not meet with full acceptance by the common soldier who complained that their representatives showed partiality to officers. In one letter home by a soldier he stated that: "The blamed Sanitary and Christian Commissions will not help a fellow unless he has shoulder straps." On the whole its record proves that the good accomplishments of the Commission far outweighed any criticism it might have merited.

Various services and relief were provided for Southern prisoners in Northern prison camps. A basis was laid for the future ideal of the neutral philosophy of such work that became the byword of the International Red Cross, when the Commission was invited to inspect the Confederate prisons in Richmond by the Confederate authorities. The Commission developed a hospital directory of over 600,000 names so that relatives could locate the wounded, or have mail forwarded as received. Sanitation facilities were improved in all camps. These and many other accomplishments are listed as milestones in the report of the U. S. Sanitary Commission, which was published in 1866. The work of the commission was regarded by many European leaders as one of the most remarkable achievements. Amongst these were Gladstone and John Stuart Mill of England and Mazzini of Italy. The ultimate result of this institution's impact was its influence in the establishment of the American Red Cross. The International organization had been founded in Geneva in 1863 and had its first meeting in Paris in 1867. It was founded in the United States in 1881.

At its inception the Commission was received without enthusiasm. Even Lincoln did not readily accept it when the order for its creation by Secretary of War Cameron remained on his desk for four days. His hesitancy is aptly dramatized by his remark that the Commission would be like a "fifth wheel to the coach." Stanton who succeeded Cameron was very cold to the whole idea. But the success of its program gradually gained acceptance. In his Philadelphia speech of June 16, 1864, Abraham Lincoln stated that "In what is contributed to the soldier's comfort by such organizations as the sanitary fairs when he passes to and fro and in what is contributed to him when he is sick and wounded, in whatever shape it comes, whether from the fair and tender hand of woman, or from any other source, it is much, very much. But I think that there is still that which is of as much value to him in the continual reminders he sees in the newspapers that while he is absent he is yet remembered by the loved ones at home."

Strangely enough, the work of the U. S. Sanitary Commission is one of the least known aspects of the war. Yet its work resulted in many revolutionary changes in medical science, military thinking, and even in so drab a subject as vital statistics. Paraphrasing an outmoded political cliché "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," it may be said that "So goes general literature so goes numismatics." For even in this narrower field there is little of either literature, or medallic emissions, to commemorate this aspect of the Civil War.

Club News

The Detroit Coin Club takes much pleasure in having been host to the greatest numismatic convention ever held, and thanks the many visitors who attended. We are especially appreciative of the many who took time to stop and tell us or write that they enjoyed the convention. Not content to rest on its laurels, the Club is busy planning another gala event, its 900th meeting which will take place next May 16. While not the oldest club in the country, we believe that no other club has held this many official meetings. We are very proud of our history since the Club's founding on February 15, 1924, and are planning to celebrate with a dinner and a limited commemorative medal for members. Among the Charter members were Henry Ford and Harry Grinnell. Presently we number as Life members such eminent numismatists as Don Heath, son of the founder of The Numismatist, Harold Bowen, author and authority on obsolete bank notes, James J. Curto, President of the Society of Token Collectors, Adm. O. H. Dodson, Past President of A.N.A., and many others. Outstanding names among our exhibitors are George D. Hatie and Irving Moskovitz, who have won awards in competition in many important events. Our convention committee never disbands and we feel that the many conventions and shows we have held have added much to our hobby and the boom that it is presently enjoying. — DANIEL C. PARKER, Sec.

President William Pukall conducted a discussion on completing and entering a prize winning exhibit as part of the program at the September 23 meeting of Evansville Coin Club, held in the Museum of Arts and Sciences at 2 p.m. Final plans were made for the Club's annual coin show and auction, to be held October 27-28 in the Vendome Hotel. Auctions will be held at 1 p.m. each day, and Ass't to the Editor of The Numismatist Smedley will be the speaker at the Saturday evening banquet. — BETTYE J. KLAUSS, Sec.

The Tri-County Coin Club of South Carolina and the Blue Ridge Numismatic Association have changed their fourth annual celebration to November 3 to avoid a conflict with MANA on the previously announced date. It will be held in the Stadium Hut in Rock Hill, S.C. from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., with an auction at 7 p.m. Police protection will be provided for the bourse and exhibit area. — J. FRANK HULL, Sec.-Treas.

Having completed two years in June, the George Washington Numismatic Association, Washington, Pa., elected the following officers for its 1962-3 year: President Ernest Alexas; Vice President Anthony Julian; Treasurer William Moore; Sergeant-at-Arms John K. Fox; Corresponding Secretary James R. Clark, and Recording Secretary Peter Shulin, 645 Hayes Ave., Washington. With a good turnout from the hundred members, meetings are held the third Thursday monthly at the Labor Temple. — PETER SHULIN, Rec. Sec.

The August 25 meeting of Toronto Coin Club was dominated by two themes, namely: reports from those who attended the Joint ANA-CNA Convention in Detroit on August 15-18, and the address of our special speaker for the day, A. R. Woadden. The one feature of the convention on which all accounts agreed was the warmth of the welcome extended to visitors by the American hosts. Also Miss Eva Adams, Director of the U. S. Mint, won golden opinions for her country. On the other hand, Miss Elizabeth Wyn Wood, RCA, an honored member of our Executive, through the courtesy of the Windsor Coin Club, presented an exhibition of the magnificent Emanuel Hahn material in the Norton Palmer Hotel in Windsor. This was arranged because U. S. laws would not permit bringing her late husband's plaster designs of Canadian coins across the border. In addition, there were displays by Walter Holmes, FRNS, Alan May, David Veilghey, Irving Moskovitz, R. C. Willey, FRNS, and others. Our special speaker, A. R. Woadden, Archivist of the City of Toronto, presented briefly the history of the Seals and Coat-of-Arms of the City. He displayed the actual seals used successively by the City and by municipalities absorbed by the City; also reproductions of promissory notes issued in the 1850s by the City in local currency at twenty shillings for four dollars. Among the visitors, a special welcome was extended to Cecil Paul and Alan Guay, respectively President and Treasurer of Trenton Coin Club. In this courtesy, guests from Trenton, Ontario, were reciprocating a visit made to Trenton recently by F. C. Jewett, FRNS, Editor of The Canadian Numismatic Journal and our own Club Treasurer. — H. A. CRAIG, Editor

Following a meeting of committee chairmen, President Victor L. Sandlin announced final plans for the Old Fort Coin Club's fifth annual show to be held November 3-4. It will be in the National Guard Armory, 330 South Clinton St., Fort Wayne, Ind., and will feature open competition in numismatic exhibits of all kinds. Awards will consist of a Best-of-Show trophy and trophies for first place winners in nine classes, including two for juniors. Ribbon awards will be made to second and third place winners. October 11 was the deadline for making exhibit space reservations. Sandlin stated that the dealer response attests to the success of the four previous shows. The thirty-five available bourse tables have all been reserved. A new feature of this year's show will be a special souvenir edition of the Club's monthly Coin Chatter, edited by Mrs. Barbara Sandlin. It will be much larger than the 12-page monthly issues and will include the names of each dealer having a reservation for the show, as well as the names of exhibitors who reserved space before October 11. For the five days prior to the show, the Club will stage a "Coin Clinic and Exhibit" in the main branch of the Fort Wayne National Bank at 123 West Berry St. Bank officials and club officers are planning an exhibit that will illustrate the many areas of numismatics. The clinic will consist of several tables at which Club members will be available to make free appraisals of coins for the public, but no buying or selling will be done. Such requests will be referred to dealers at the week-end show. In arranging the clinic, President Ray Bouchard of the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Numismatic Club, which held a very successful clinic last spring, is giving assistance. In keeping with the custom at previous Old Fort Coin Club shows, there will be no auction at this year's event. — L. D. BEAVER, Publ. Chm.

MUNCIE'S OFFICERS

New officers of the Muncie Coin and Stamp Club are, l. to r., Indiana State Numismatic Association convention Co-Chairman Howard Creps, President William Irwin, Corresponding Secretary Robert Wilson, convention Co-Chairman George McKnight, Treasurer Mildred Fager, Vice President Harry Shroyer. The Club is host to Indiana State's 1963 convention May 17-19 on the campus of Ball State College, Muncie, Ind.

At the July meeting of North York (Toronto) Coin Club, attended by forty-one in spite of the heat, John Curtis was honored for his role as a founder and first president of the Club. President Ken Bunnnett spoke of the role John played and Mrs. Louise Graham presented him with a suitably inscribed desk set in appreciation for his outstanding services. There was no special speaker but we heard from delegates of the several clubs which are sponsors of the Greater Toronto Coin and Stamp Exhibition to be held November 23-25 at the Club Kingsway. Kaj Rasmussen and Ted Merner displayed die varieties.

The August meeting was in the form of an informal evening at the home of Audrey and Mrs. Conson, where the ladies served a delightful buffet supper. Varied accounts were given of the recent ANA-CNA Detroit Convention by some of the nine Club members who attended it. The president announced with much regret that prominent member Knud Rasmussen suffered a heart attack two weeks previously. At last reports, his condition was improving. — MAY BUNNETT, Sec.-Treas.

A new coin club has been organized at Brawley in Imperial County, Cal., which is twenty-five miles north of the Mexican border and 119 feet below sea level. The twenty-one enthusiasts who attended the organizational meeting on July 26 agreed upon the name Be-Lo-Ce Coin Club. Officers of the Date Empire Coin Club of Indio helped in the formation of the Club which will hold meetings the fourth Thursday evening monthly in the Elk's Club rooms. The officers elected are: President Al Nickel; Vice President and Treasurer Evert Mowatt; Secretary Mrs. L. H. Fifer; and Directors L. H. Fifer, Edith Kahl and S. F. Sullivan. — ALBERT NICKEL, Pres.

The first place award in Class B for National Coin Week and the winning scrapbook attracted much attention at the August 31 meeting of the Club of Illinois Numismatists in Homewood. On motion of Hugh Knight, it was agreed that this Club will not compete in the 1963 NCW in the hope that this will encourage other clubs to work for one of these outstanding awards. Our members will compete with each other for local awards. Hugh Knight gave a report on the recent ANA-CNA Detroit Convention for the benefit of those who could not attend it. Exhibits included a type set of commemorative half dollars, a complete set of the same, a silver bar from the mint, a catalog dated 1934, and two sets of Papal medals. This reporter was given a standing ovation for her work as Chairman of National Coin Week. — LOIS OTIS, Reporter

Forty-five members and guests heard Clifford L. Liss read a paper on coins of the Philippines as a U. S. territory at the July meeting of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society. One of the seventeen exhibits at this meeting was a large collection of these Philippine coins by Liss.

At the August meeting, Dr. Charles W. Aby gave a fine talk on Mexican coins of the 20th Century. The forty-five members and guests provided sixteen exhibits at this meeting. — MRS. HARRY CUTLER, Sec.

The September 12 meeting of Chicago Coin Club was headlined as "Bolender Night" in recognition of a visit by member M. H. and Mrs. Bolender of San Marino, Calif. In a short reminiscent talk, Bolender told us how he became a coin dealer in 1906, of his early days in Orangeville, Illinois, and that the first club of which he became a member was Chicago Coin Club. He exhibited and spoke about the auction catalog of his fifty-second sale, which was held at the A.N.A. convention in Chicago in 1929. He believes that this was the first auction held at an A.N.A. convention. Some of the prices realized which he read from the list printed after this sale were almost incredible to the younger collectors. He exhibited the ornate testimonial which was given to him when, due to ill health, he gave up his Freeport home and auction business and moved to California some ten years ago. Bolender was happy to see at this meeting a number of the members who signed the letter accompanying the remembrance. At the close of the meeting, he auctioned about half of the thirty lots he had brought along as a donation to the Club. Harold Klein finished the sale which netted the Club some two hundred dollars. First Vice President Michael Dolnick thanked the Bolenders and wished them health and happiness. — MARJORIE BAKER, Sec.

The August 19 meeting of Lawndale Coin Club, held in the Del Aire Improvement Association Building, 119th Street and Aviation Blvd. in Inglewood, Cal., was attended by 116 persons of which thirteen were new members. Bill Wilmoughby enthralled his audience with a twenty-minute talk on "Gold - Wealth & Weapon." Due to lowering the commission on auction items, we had unusually fine material which Bob Davis auctioned at nearly $1,500 for eighty-eight lots. An EXF 1916-D dime brought $180.00, a fine plus 1909-S VDB cent sold for $110.00, a complete set of Peace dollars went for $80.00, and a 1909-S Indian cent graded fine realized $58. Our meetings are held at 2 p.m. the third Sunday monthly. — JACK PROTAY, Corr. Sec.

Seventy-six members and guests attended the August 6 meeting of Trenton Numismatic Club at the Colonial Fire House in Trenton, N. J. Samuel Burgdorf, President of the Liberty Bell Coin Club in Philadelphia, exhibited and spoke on Japanese 2nd Century money. He also told us of plans for the MANA convention, for which he is chairman of two committees. We made him an Honorary member of our Club in appreciation for his services.

Due to Labor Day, our September meeting was held on August 27, with fifty-four in attendance. Norman Pullen and Richard Burd volunteered as our representatives at the Delaware Valley Coin convention. — MRS. NORMAN W. PULLEN, Sec.

Founded to furnish the usual services of a local coin club, the Ancient Coin Club now has members in all parts of the United States and Canada. A modest monthly publication called "The Voice of the Turtle" features mail bid sales of coins submitted by members as well as answers to inquiries and articles about ancient coins, and trading and selling of ancient and medieval coins. Also, the nucleus of a library is available to members at the cost of postage only.

Qualification for membership, at $1.00 per year, is an interest in ancient coins. Address: Ancient Coin Club, 2003 Grand Blvd., Cedar Falls, Iowa.

The Waynesboro Coin Club will hold its first annual show at the National Guard Armory on North Grant Street, Waynesboro, Penna, on December 8 and 9. Admission is free from 10 a.m. Saturday and from noon Sunday and door prizes will be drawn hourly. — JULIUS ZULVER, Chm.

This Club invites collectors to its meetings the third Friday evening monthly in Golden Gate Park. — ROY HILL, Vice Pres.

The exhibit theme for the Peninsula Coin Club of Palo Alto, Cal., meeting on November 26 will be "Early America." All members and visitors are invited to participate with exhibits of Colonial and early United States coins. An auction of member's coins and a discussion of plans for the December 17 Christmas meeting will be on the program. Visitors are invited to regular meetings the fourth Monday monthly at the Palo Alto Community Center, 1305 Middlefield Rd. — ROY HILL, Sec.

City of Lakes Coin Club will hold its third annual open house on Sunday, November 25, 1962, in the Pony Room of the Hotel Rumely, La Porte, Ind. There will be many exhibits with ribbons awarded to the winners in the various categories. Ten bourse tables will be open for business throughout the day. For information on bourse tables write to Henry Lezak, 2254 Inglewood Dr., South Bend, Ind.

Kilgore, Texas, site of the world's largest oil field, will be host to the Kilgorama Coin Festival on December 8-9. It will be in Kilgore's new million dollar Community Inn, and extensive plans are in progress to make it one of the season's outstanding coin shows. Some thirty dealers will have bourse tables featuring a wide variety of rare coins and currency. Visitors will be greeted by the world famous Kilgore College Rangerettes, television attraction, who will be attired in their red and blue uniforms to add festivity to the convention. Two ballrooms of the Inn will house the bourse and exhibits. Security police will be provided. Bourse tables at $25 for the two days; room reservations and information are available from Hank Bleciuk, Box 1235, Kilgore, Texas.

The Civil War Period was the topic at the September 10 meeting of the Washington (D.C.) Numismatic Society. Exhibits of the four years 1861-5 included fractional currency, encased postage stamps, tokens, Confederate money and even guns. Brent Hughes, well known in the Confederate currency field, gave a talk on the robbery of a shipment of Confederate notes at Petersburg, Va., during which most of an issue of ten-dollar notes was destroyed and the remainder seemed to disappear. From his collection on exhibit, he illustrated the variety of these bills. Members of this Society and of the Montgomery County Coin Club held a picnic on September 15 at which many of the families met for the first time. Judging by the number of hot dogs consumed, the picnic was highly successful. — MAE L. CLARKE, Sec.

The North Central Kansas Coin Club held its first meeting of the fall on September 5 with an attendance of twenty-two. Stan Kolosky of Saline, an ardent collector of paper money from Colonial times to the present, displayed an almost complete type collection and made a talk which was the finest we have had the good fortune to hear. — JOHN J. SMIES, Sec.-Treas.

The Newton (Kansas) Coin Club held its election at the September 21 meeting. Officers for the coming year are: President Les Matthews, Vice President Waldemar Horn, Secretary Earl Phillips, Treasurer, Jewell E. Perry, and Activity Director Mrs. Bobbie E. Phillips. — BOBBIE PHILLIPS, Publ. Chm.

Ray Byrne gave a most unusual talk at the September 4 meeting of Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society. Using the title "The Case of the Confusing Mint Marks," Ray explained the confusion resulting from the use of the mint mark "P" on the coins of the Lima, Potosi and Popayan mints of Spanish America. He stated that the assayers put their initials on these coins and it is necessary to compare initials with tenure of office and mint marks to properly identify the coins. Ray would be glad to hear from readers who need help in clarifying this problem. In addition to his exhibit of silver and gold coins of the early Spanish American mints, there were exhibits by Harry Bartley, Richard Foley, Robert J. Hudson, George Kiefer and Glenn Mooney. — DR. ROBERT J. HUDSON, Sec.-Treas.

The September 6 meeting of Vancouver (B.C.) Numismatic Society featured reports by members who attended the CNA-ANA Convention in Detroit. Irene Smith described the tours which she took as part of the convention and Larry Gingras showed colored slides which he had taken there. His running commentary was both humorous and revealing. Fred McKenzie and his wife were disappointed in that they felt there was too much emphasis on dollar value and profit and too little on numismatics. Les Copan reported that the 1963 CNA convention is to be held here in the Hotel Vancouver. Gordon Dickie, Robert Ridgway and Vic Powell won the prizes for their displays of copper. — ALAN BEARDSHAW, Publicity

Admiral O. H. Dodson, Director of the Money Museum of the National Bank of Detroit, gave an interesting talk accompanied by slides on his coin hunting adventures while stationed overseas at a recent meeting of Lincoln Coin Club, Wayne County, Mich. The Club presented him a 1763 French ecu as a memento of his visit. Our third annual convention will be held December 8-9 in the United Steelworkers Hall in Southgate and will feature exceptional exhibits, a twenty-seven table bourse (sold out) and a two hundred lot auction of scarce coins. The large hall insures ample space, there will be hourly door prizes, and a superb cafeteria will offer everything from a cup of coffee to a full course smorgasbord. General Chairman is Floyd Webb, 947 Harrison, Lincoln Park, Mich. This Club meets the first and third Friday each month in the Community Room of the Federal Department Store, Taylortown Shopping Center, Taylor, Mich. — WILLIAM J. ASH, Pres.

Eight persons gave reports on the recent ANA-CNA Detroit convention at the August meeting of Indianapolis Coin Club. Carl Simons showed the Stuart Mosher Memorial Award plaque which his first place exhibit of foreign paper money won, and Sylvester Kasberg and Carl Shelby were proud of their A.N.A. twenty-five year membership medals. Varied and interesting exhibits of hobbies other than numismatics were shown by Fred Claffey, Herschel Flake, Max Keller, Ronald Plew, P. J. Seal and the Leo Terrys. These exhibits gave evidence that many numismatists are not narrow minded in their collecting interests. — CLAUDE E. TYNDALL, Corr. Sec.

The fall convention of Louisiana Numismatic Association will be held November 2-4 in the Fontainebleau Motor Hotel in New Orleans, with Crescent City Coin Club as host. Some outstanding exhibits have been promised and dealers from several states will be in the bourse. Jim Kelly of Dayton, Ohio, will conduct the auction. No banquet will be held but food will be available. Further information may be obtained from Co-Chairman Myron Bergenske, 2017 E. Mifflin St., Madison, Wis. — RONALD L. CALKINS, Co-Chm.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE ALL FOLLOWING CONDITIONS

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to the Advertising Manager, S. W. Freeman, P. O. Box 591, Newport, Ark. Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

No advertising accepted from minors.

Advertising Contracts: These are available, covering periods of three, six and twelve consecutive months for display space as listed in the above Table of Rates, and are necessary if the schedule of reduced rates is to apply. If the advertiser prefers not to accept the Contract, such reduced rates will be granted only upon payment in advance for the period desired.

References: All advertisers who submit copy for the first time are definitely requested to furnish therewith banking or other satisfactory references.

Available Space Units: Practical considerations restrict the allocation of space units to those listed in the above table. Any amount of space (subject to any current limitation) is available IF these units or a combination of them are used. Unless contrary instructions are given, copy will be cut if found too full for the space designated; if no designation is made, it shall be understood the amount of space is left to the discretion of the Advertising Manager.

Unless under contract, smaller units than one-half page accepted subject to available space in desired issue.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the Advertising Manager by the 5th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

Illustrations: All cuts to be provided by the advertisers, care being used to see that they do not exceed in measurement the limits of the space unit desired. The Advertising Manager, when absolutely necessary, will have engravings made from furnished photographs, at national rates, to be paid for by advertiser.

We cannot accept mats or stereos.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be retyped for the printer; this should not be required. Mail Bid Sales listing not acceptable. It is also the policy of the magazine to limit its advertisements to those of numismatic character.

Preparation of Copy: Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error—something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet. Send originals, not carbon copies. Use only paper of good quality, and not of extremely light weight. All copy must be typed, no handwritten accepted.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 7th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

A PEDIGREED COLLECTION OF CHOICE, UNCIRCULATED FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

Formed by the late T. James Clarke, and obtained from the Clarke estate by Herman Crofoot, now deceased. The collection was purchased by me in 1959, for exhibit purposes. A month ago a portion of it was sold to Lyman Abbott, President of the Syracuse Coin Club, to be added to his own beautiful collection. The balance is being offered for the first time on these two pages. A rare opportunity for the serious Fractional Currency collector.

LOW PRICES, QUALITY, + QUANTITY DISCOUNTS!

10% DISCOUNT on ORDERS of $50, or over! DISCOUNT applies to EVERYTHING in this AD! We pay all Postage and Insurance!

SOME WORDS TO THE WISE ! :

If the price of silver keeps rising, (and experts say it will), IT WILL SOON PAY TO SAVE ANY SILVER DOLLAR for its silver content alone!

Naturally, Silver Dollars of NUMISMATIC VALUE will rise much higher!

Since Dec. 1961, silver has risen from 92¢ per Troy oz. to $1.201 (as we go to Press). When it reaches $1.29 per oz., the silver content of a Silver Dollar will be worth more than a dollar! How soon will the Government, and Industry, accelerate the melting of Silver Dollars?

Watch the Financial Pages of your daily Newspapers, especially the WALL STREET JOURNAL, for detailed information and current prices of silver.

Instead of putting your money in the Bank, where it will earn about 4%, try storing Silver Dollars, particularly Numismatic Dollars, in your Safe Deposit Box at the Bank, and see how much they will be worth in a year, 5 years, 10 years! (And, in emergencies, you can always spend them!)

Since 1878, a little less than 424 million Silver Dollars were struck. In 1918, over 270 million were melted! How many more have been melted since then?

If every one in the U. S. put away only 2 Silver Dollars, the Dollars would "disappear"! The Banks would have none, the Federal Reserve would be depleted, even Reno and Las Vegas would be out!

So why gamble? Be SILVER DOLLAR WISE !

START, IMPROVE, or COMPLETE YOUR SILVER DOLLAR COLLECTION NOW !

LEFLER'S DELUXE PLASTIC COIN HOLDERS

Established in 1950

Holders are made from genuine plexiglas. All edges are hand buffed, no flame polishing or short cuts that may later on cause glazing (tiny cracks on edges). Our coin ports are not tapered, therefore some time and patience is required for mounting but once the coins are properly fitted they will all be even across face and will not under normal handling come loose to rattle or turn. For a small fee we will mount coins. All coins are handled with gloves. All printing on holders is double imprinted with heat on gold foil to insure a perfect and permanent printing.

1S 10x10 $\frac{1}{2}$ holders for commemorative half dollars type set in two holders.
Second half has 2 extra openings, per set$ 37.50

2S 10x10 $\frac{1}{2}$ six holders for complete set of commemorative half dollars, eight extra openings. These holders are imprinted same as the type set except mint marks are included, per set\$150.00

Stock holders are available in opaque white, opaque jet black, transparent dark red and blue, translucent bright red, light blue.

We take great pride in our reputation for quality workmanship and satisfaction.

A detailed catalogue of all Spanish and Spanish Colonial Onzas, or gold pieces of eight. Lists types and dates and initials of assayers.

Written in English and Spanish with dollar valuations.

1,000 numbered copies. Printed, on rich, large octavo paper with gold-colored photos of many coins.

Introduction and bibliography in English.

Highly recommended to collectors of gold coins in general, and especially to students of American numismatics because the onza was legal tender in America until 1857.

LINCOLN and ILLINOIS PORTRAITS in SILVER

This Lincoln-Illinois Medal is our finest to date, capturing the mellow expression of Abraham Lincoln in minute detail. Facial expression is remarkably conceived in extremely high relief. On the reverse, our twenty-first state, Illinois, is superbly portrayed.

This is the fifth of the "Portraits In Silver" series, masterpieces of fine sculpturing. A president and a state are featured on these medals for only the price of a single medal. They are made in the large, silver dollar size.

Because of their superior quality and limited production, these medals are in high demand and have ever-increasing value. They're numismatist showpieces you'll be proud to possess. Registered serial number purchasers have first priority . . . so, to ensure getting this outstanding series of medals . . . PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW for the entire five medals issued to date.

OUR 81ST AUCTION

IN BUSINESS SINCE 1932

When You Think of Selling...

THINK OF EMPIRE FIRST

EMPIRE'S Method of Buying:

We will examine your coins carefully and make an offer for their purchase. If our offer is accepted you will be paid immediately. If our offer is not accepted, coins will be returned to you carefully packaged, post-paid and insured at our expense. Coins may be sent to us via Registered or Insured mail, or Railway Express for larger shipments.

EMPIRE'S Record of Buying Success:

Our records show that over 90% of the offers we make are accepted. We believe that this is due to our willingness to offer a fair price for your coins... we are content to operate on a small margin. As further proof of our willingness to pay high prices, consider our performance at other dealers' auction sales. Rarity after rarity (1894-S dimes, 1838-O half dollar, gold rarities, etc. as examples) has been sold to Empire, usually outbidding hundreds of other participants.

EMPIRE'S Way of Doing Business:

When you sell to Empire you will have a fair, honest and pleasant transaction. You will be paid immediately for items purchased. There will be no waiting for your money or the uncertainty of what your coins might sell for at auction. Payment will not be "within thirty days" but will be immediate.

EMPIRE'S Experience:

Members of the Empire staff are qualified in all branches of American numismatics. We are familiar with even the diverse series such as encased postage stamps, patterns, colonials, early proofs, etc. We can pay you a higher price as we know what they are worth. We do not have to allow an extra margin for uncertainty. Many of the most important new varieties discovered in recent years have been found or verified by Empire staff members. Our interest and qualifications for numismatic research are second to none.

WHEN YOU THINK OF SELLING — THINK OF EMPIRE FIRST

You will like our way of doing business.

The Fantastic 1804 Dollar

by

Eric P. Newman and Kenneth E. Bressett

An exhaustive study of the 1804 dollar is now presented for the first time in this unique book. Every piece of information ever recorded about the "king of American coins" is cited, discussed and analyzed in this truly fantastic story.

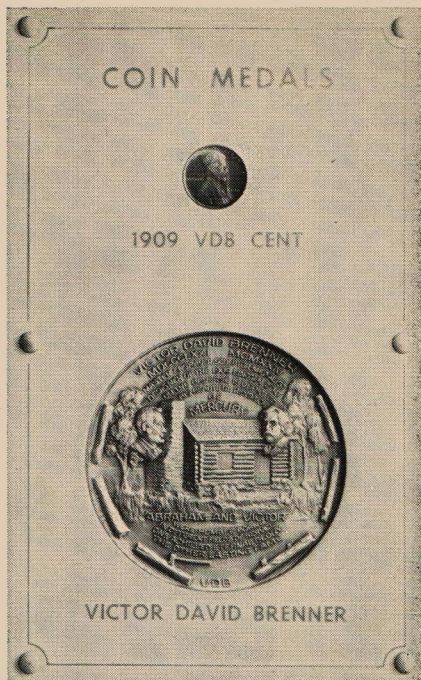

In a very enjoyable style the authors try, not to implant their opinions, but to present all known facts and startling new discoveries, outline modern methods of numismatic investigation, and allow the reader to draw his own conclusions.

This thoroughly illustrated book has an attractive library binding with 144 pages printed on highest quality paper.

COIN MEDALS . . .

The Magnificent Medals of Real Numismatic Interest

A series of beautifully sculptured, numismatically designed medals commemorating famous coin designers. The Augustus Saint-Gaudens and Victor D. Brenner medals, the first two in the COIN MEDALS series, are now ready for immediate shipment, and the Charles E. Barber medal will be ready in June.

COIN MEDALS are sculptured in very high relief on both obverse and reverse by master artist Robert Schabel, and quality struck by The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York. The obverse of every COIN MEDAL depicts the finest medallion work of the artist being commemorated, and the reverse, as shown above, symbolizes his work in coins.

COIN MEDALS are issued in bronze, and in a serially numbered pure silver issue not to exceed 5000. Each medal is three inches in diameter, and weigh close to a half-pound in silver, so they are not to be confused with ordinary coin size medals.

PRICES OF COIN MEDALS

in serially numbered pure silver, in velvet lined case$35.00
The Victor D. Brenner Medal: Bronze $5.50, or2 for $10.00

CUSTOMER COMMENTS:

"Of all the coin cleaners on the market, BRILLIANTIZE works best on my coins." — Springfield, Mass.

"I recently purchased 75 nickels that were found by a skin-diver friend of mine in Lake Erie; these coins were very dirty and coated with about 10 years of lime, etc. I cleaned most of them with BRILLIANTIZE and they are now in what I call Uncirculated condition, thanks to such a wonderful cleaner." — Buffalo, New York.

"I was very pleased with the first coin I cleaned with BRILLIANTIZE (all the rest, too, of course). It is the best cleaner I have ever used." — Georgia.

"I find it to be the best there is." — Omaha, Nebr.

"I have found this cleaner to be TOPS and am therefore enclosing my check in the amount of $5.00 and asking that you forward me a large size kit." — Pennsylvania.

"I think BRILLIANTIZE is the best I have ever used and it does everything you promise." — Cleveland.

"My fellow coin club members and I in Pensacola have tried your BRILLIANTIZE coin cleaner with amazing results." — Florida.

Our free booklet on care and cleaning of coins is included in each kit. Among its authors is one California coin club president and also the late Burton Saxton who was a leader in the A.N.A.

ANCIENT COIN CLUB STARTED

The Ancient Coin club was founded to furnish to the collector of ancients, the usual services of a local coin club, by correspondence. We now have members in all parts of the United States and Canada.

A very modest monthly publication "The Voice of the Turtle" features a monthly mail bid auction of coins submitted by members, as well as answers to enquiries, letters to the editor, articles by members, and trading and selling of ancients and medieval coins.

The nucleus of a library on ancients is available to any member without charge.

The only qualification necessary for membership is an interest in ancients.
